

A worker dies in a work accident in the Port of Bilbao

20/05/2020 17:45

Apparently, the incident occurred due to the explosion of a truck wheel. The victim was 37 years old and belonged to the Vulcanizados Retuerto company.

A 37-year-old employee of the company Vulcanizados Retuerto died this afternoon in an occupational accident that occurred at the facilities that the Port of Bilbao has in Santurtzi.

Apparently, the accident occurred when the operator was changing the wheel of a truck and it has exploded, according to sources from the Labor Department told Europa Press.

An individual has informed the emergency services at 16:00 that an occupational accident with serious consequences for a worker had occurred.

Immediately displaced to the scene, the medical services of the Port Authority have tried to resuscitate the victim, without success, for which reason a doctor has certified his death.