Manzanillo, Col.- One dead and two injured is the result of the accident registered this Saturday night, inside the port area of Manzanillo.

Unofficially, it was said that the accident occurred in a container yard, minutes after 9 at night, when an alleged mishandling by one of the machines caused a container to come over the workers before dropping; causing the death of one of them instantly.

The emergency services of the port area arrived at the site, assisting the injured and waiting for SEMEFO to order the removal of the body.
