

Fatal accident at TCP terminal at the Port of Paranaguá

Single port worker was found dead on the deck of a ship

28 NOV 2020 Submitted by: @jornalportuario

A lone port worker was found dead on the deck of a ship loaded with containers at the Port of Paranaguá.

The body of the port worker was found in the early evening of Friday, 27 on the deck of a ship, which is moored in the Port of Paranaguá, in the area intended for handling containers.

According to information obtained by our journalism department, the victim had been missing since late afternoon.

Other workers on board found the body under a pile of containers. Until the closing of this matter, we did not receive a note with information from the terminal.