

Hai Phong: Labor accident, a port worker died

LDO | 04/01/2021 | 15:36

The scene of an occupational accident at Doan Xa Port, Hai Phong. Photo: CTV

Ngo Quyen district police (Hai Phong) are investigating the cause of a serious occupational accident that killed a male worker.

In the afternoon of 1.4, the leader of the Ngo Quyen District Police (Hai Phong) said that the District Police Department of CSDT is coordinating to investigate and clarify the cause of an occupational accident at Doan Xa Port, causing one death.

Initial information, at 9h10 on 1 April, at the cargo handling area of Doan Xa Port (belonging to Doan Xa Port Joint Stock Company, at 15 Ngo Quyen, May Chai ward, Ngo Quyen district, there was an occupational accident, HNB (50 years old, permanent resident in Van My ward, Ngo Quyen district) died.

According to the initial investigation from the Ngo Quyen District Police, at that time, Mr. B. was assigned to cages, to connect cables to the corrugated iron plates in the cargo yard so that the crane truck could move the cargo.

When the crane lifted the corrugated iron sheets, these sheets collided with Mr. B. causing him to die.

Currently, the cause of the accident is being investigated and clarified.