

Accident at work - Crane operator dies in the port of Taranto 30 Apr, 2021

Taranto - Serious accident at work occurred on the afternoon of April 29 in the port of Taranto, where a crane operator, an employee of Peyrani sud, lost his life after falling into the void in a flight of about twenty meters.

The incident occurred in the public part of the port, on the first protruding one. The victim is Natalino Albano, a 49-year-old worker who died while he was busy loading and unloading a ship. The causes of the accident have yet to be ascertained.

According to union sources, the worker may have jumped off the ship for fear of being overwhelmed by the load consisting of wind turbines. The dynamics are being examined by the inspectors of Spesal, the Prevention and Safety Service in the workplace of the ASL and by the agents of the Police Headquarters, who intervened on site. The transport trade unions have called a 24-hour strike at the port of Taranto from midnight on 29 March.
