

ACCIDENT AT WORK IN THE PORT OF TARANTO: For Fear of Being Hit By A Load, The Worker Threw Himself From The Crane And Dies

The man was loading wind turbines. The intervention of 118 was useless. Called 24 hours of strike in taranto and one hour, tomorrow, in ports throughout Italy

APRIL 29, 2021

Accident at work on the afternoon of Thursday 29 April in the port of Taranto, victim of an employee of the Peyrani Sud company, Natalino Albano . He was in charge of loading a ship that was accepting wind turbines produced by the Vestas company on the fourth projecting when, according to an initial reconstruction of the dynamics, the load shifted.

For fear of being struck, the worker threw himself onto the quay. The launch, however, was fatal and the young worker lost his life despite the ship being separated from the quay by a height that was not excessive, apparently about 2 meters. On the spot the police forces for a more exact reconstruction of the dynamics of the accident.

"From midnight today until midnight tomorrow we are proclaiming 24 hours of strike in the port of Taranto - announced Carmelo Sasso , Uil Trasporti secretary -. Most likely tomorrow, April 30, there will also be an hour of strike in the Italian ports in a sign of solidarity and participation in this tragedy at work ".