

The affected machine and all documents and inspections were in order. — © VUM

After fatal accident in port: are temporary workers sufficiently pointed out to the dangers 'at the dock'?

Christoph Meeussen

Friday, September 10, 2021 at 21:11

Antwerp –

Stevie, 37, an employee of Katoen Natie, was killed in a work accident in the port on Wednesday. The woman from Antwerp was grabbed by a forklift and died instantly. She had only been working on the quays for three months, as a 'pasmaid', or casual worker. Did that play a role in the tragic accident on quay 1227 at Katoen Natie?