

Gary Sandoval, a worker from the Port of Santa Marta died in a strange accident with a tire

SEPTEMBER 3, 2021

COMPARTR

As 'Gary', Garivaldi Sandoval Pérez- the supervisor of the port of Santa Marta who was killed in the middle of a work accident was identified.

Sandoval was hit by the rim of a tire that exploded on a forklift when they were inside the maritime port of that Colombian capital.

The blow was such that this person was left lying down and in serious condition. Immediately- his colleagues from the port society took action to transfer him to the Prado clinic . It was at that medical center where Gary Sandoval's death was confirmed, due to the severity of the impact he received.

On site, the investigations were carried out by specialized personnel to clarify the circumstances of death.