

Sad! A worker dies in an unfortunate accident in the port area of Veracruz

Veracruz, Ver., July 24, 2023.- This Monday night it was revealed that an unfortunate accident inside the port facilities claimed the life of a worker who operated heavy machinery and who ended up being crushed by it.

According to the report obtained, the victim was a mechanic who was completing his workday at the Veracruz National Port System Administration (ASIPONA) performing maintenance work.

The information regarding this unfortunate event has flowed amid the secrecy of the company and the port itself, while ministerial authorities are already in the place investigating what happened to determine responsibilities.
