

Man dies in industrial accident at Belfast Harbour Estate

21 March 2017 at 12:55pm

A man has died in an industrial accident in Belfast Harbour Estate.

It is understood the man became trapped under machinery.

A spokesperson for the ambulance service says they were called to the McCaughey Road on Stormont Wharf just before 8.30am on Tuesday.

The rapid response crew, A&E crew and doctor attended. No-one was taken from the scene.

A spokesperson for Belfast Harbour has confirmed that the Health and Safety Executive is at the scene and next of kin have been informed.
