

Panama Maritime Authority investigates cause of death of a worker inside a port enclosure in the country

February 15, 2025

By Redacción PortalPortuario
@Port Portal

The Maritime Authority of Panama (AMP) reported that a work accident occurred in a port in the Panamanian Pacific, at the entrance to the Panama Canal, resulting in the death of a worker, and a serious injury. The incident is being investigated. According to the entity, they are workers of a subcontractor of auxiliary services. The accident occurred while they were performing daily maneuvers in the port.

Faced with this tragic event, the AMP said it has initiated an internal process to investigate the circumstances in which the incident occurred.

Likewise, the AMP said that it works closely with the Ministry of Labor and Labor Development (Mitradel) and the Public Ministry (MP) to clarify the causes of the event.

The precise location of the accident was not disclosed by the entity.
