

Heavy equipment falls on a worker inside the port of Alexandria

Friday 13/Feb/2026 - 07:45 PM

There was a terrible accident at the pier of Alexandria after a giant shipment of equipment for the Al-Dabaa nuclear plant fell on the body of a person to kill him immediately. The process included the unloading the Russian cargo amid the shock of workers and officials who witnessed the collapse of the huge engineering equipment above the victim to end his life under the weight of many tons in a catastrophic incident that stopped work at the port

Equipment dedicated to the construction of the Al-Daba nuclear plant during the unloading operations at the port of Alexandria fell suddenly, causing the death of one person immediately after being run over under the huge metal parts, as safety forces, detective officers and ambulances moved to the site of the tragic accident to take out the body and inspect the damage resulting from the collision of equipment with the pavement floor and the handling area.

Media relations in the Russian company supervising the construction of the . Dabaa station acknowledged the unusual accident during cargo handling operations at the port, and the company confirmed that the accident directly affected part of the equipment allocated for the Al-Dabaa nuclear power plant project, while the security services began investigating the winch crew and those responsible for the safety of the unloading operation.